Words are un-a-ble to speak of love like a smile in a whis-per does. Oh —

REPEAT WITH VOCAL AD LIB. TO FADE

2. All of the letters in all of the words
In all of the books all over the world
They're nothing but sounds vowels and nouns
For talking to strangers that's all they're worth.
- % Orchestra of tiny harps
It's like pepper sprinkled on our hearts
We're threading a needle in boxing gloves
When we try to talk about love.
